

TBS PTO EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETING

November 13, 2019

In attendance: Dave Shepard, Beth Mango, Erin La Madrid, Jesse Aguilar, Dawn Zavashlian, Stephanie Montiminy, Kristen Loparco, Leah Schaff, Erika Evanko

- T-shirts are in and are going out shortly, probably on Friday.
- Check to Lights on Avon will go to them at the town meeting on Nov. 26th. They meet in the gym at 8:20.
- The musical is going well. Plenty of registrations. She has found a musical director to help her with the show. They have their W-9s. Dawn is doing ticket sales for musical through Konstella.
- Book fair - Dec. 2 - 6th. Sylvia Schutz and Nancy Tran are running the book fair. It has been all set up with scholastic. We are only getting books for the age group of our school so as not to compete with RBS. There will be "I survived" books on special because of the author speaker.
- Author speaker - we will not be able to allow the larger community to come in to hear the author. She will be coming January 31st. We will need hospitality for lunch. Every student will get a signed plate to put in a book of hers.
- 6th grade social committee - More people wanted to be off site. People are researching different places to hold it.
- Battle of the books - the books have been ordered and everything is on track.
- Souper Bowl - Mr. Duffy doesn't want to collect food for the Souper Bowl.
- We have lost our sandwich board and Kristen is going to order another one. The board approved the purchase of a new one.
- Parent Social/Family night - Paula Feyerhahn is doing parent social and Katie Robbin is going to do a game night for the family night. On the survey the most popular option for a parent night is a beer/wine tasting at a local establishment. We need some dates for these things. Erin & Kristen will meet with the leads. They both need a budget.
- We have a space issue and Mr. Duffy would like to start clearing some stuff out. We need to find a better place for the musical stuff. Also need to clean out some of the musical stuff. Could we use the locker rooms? They aren't used by anybody.

- Yearbook - Is this program sustainable? It is so much work - will someone always be able to put that much time in to it? Should it be more like the musical? Should this be a board position? Could we ask the room parents to take pictures? Could they get more involved in coming in to school? Could there just be a committee? Could we do a photography class, but it would be hard to do it in conjunction with the yearbook. Should we create a job description and offer it out to the staff in general? We need to have a meeting with Chris Melnick to determine how she pictures the position going forward.
